

What was new for me? What did I learn from the various lessons of the Erasmus+ project?

127 responses

forming of oxygene molecu
 communicating in english
 working under pressure
 locations in vienna
 pink ink is negative
 hungarian alphabet
 living with host family
 biology
 using micropipettes
 how to pipet laboratory work
 meet new people
 communication
 electrophoresis
 what electrophoresis is
 culture english skills
 social skills
 language skills
 words in other languages
 vienna communication
 improved social skills
 sth about electrophoresis
 interpretation of results
 polish alphabet
 using scientific language

foreign dishes
 how to work in english
 preparation of gel
 history and art
 low budget electrophoresi
 biology
 working with other people
 improve english
 having a host student
 abroad without parents
 countries polish costumes better english tae buffer being more social
 burial rites for emperors hungary culture
 working in team
 chemistry catacombs
 ethic
 countries' culture
 austrian culture
 talking about cultures
 visiting the school
 being a gest student
 self-expression
 vianna's history
 to look behind a process
 labs with other nations

english
 improved english skills
 working with pressure
 the underground system
 using micropipettes
 pipetting
 the museum
 work with new people
 poland culture
 making a movie
 addapting
 using a pipette
 dignity - what's about
 electroforises
 how to do elektrophoresis
 being at host family
 the experiment
 lab work
 englisch skills
 the city of vienna

distance of electrodes
 new things about poland
 dealing with stress
 polish culture
 work in a team
 speaking german
 improvisation
 dealing with problems
 prepare agarose gel

What was interesting to me? What impressed me particularly?

96 responses

